- Wealth Creation Opportunity

Gold, is probably the only asset class that reaches out across the length and breadth of the country, invoking a number of emotions. For some, it is a form of adornment and a status symbol. For the more evolved, it is a subject of economic interest as it sits on the balance sheet of most Central Banks. Whichever way one looks at it, gold is one metal which has an aura surrounding it, which has fascinated everyone.

Through the years gold's appeal in India has evolved from an object of pure aesthetic value to a commodity which offers itself as an avenue for investment and wealth creation.

Even as we all agree, in the pure investment merit of gold, as a prudent investor there will be questions that you would like to be addressed. Why should one hold gold as an INVESTMENT? Is it the right time to invest in gold? What is the most convenient way to invest in gold?

Gold: A value creator & enhancer

Inflation reduces the value of cash. Gold, over years has maintained its value against inflation. Not only has gold acted as a hedge against inflation, gold has even outperformed inflation in India. (Source: Bloomberg)

Gold: A Portfolio Diversifier

Gold prices have historically displayed negative or low correlation to other asset classes. Asset allocation should be followed by investors to look for opportunities to enhance returns. One asset class which has given spectacular returns over the last 10 years is gold. (18.12% CAGR as on 30th June 2011).

(Past performance of gold may or may not be sustained in future.)

3 Year Return Correlation on key assets and Gold

The right time to start investing in Gold is now:

• Universal appeal of gold:

In volatile equity markets, the gold is often considered as a safe haven. It is clearly becoming a strong investment avenue and not just a consumption tool which is evident in the gradual shift observed in gold demand over the past few years (Source: World Gold Council).

• Positive disposition towards Gold:

Increased global risk, US Dollar weakness, growing inflationary fears, the US debt downgrade and continuing sovereign debt risks in Europe have increased investor appetite for gold, triggering recent price strength. This has been supported by Central Banks reversing activities from being sellers for most of the past 15 years to net buyers more recently.
